You've Got a Choice . . .

Verizon and Verizon Wireless workers are fighting for a fair deal from a highly profitable company. We recently went on strike because we believe someone has to draw the line against corporate greed and executives taking home 300 times what regular workers make.

We have now returned to work but are still fighting for a fair contract and a fair deal for middle-class families, like yours.

Make the Right One

At AT&T Wireless, over 40,000 workers are proud Union members who work together to protect their rights.

You can send a strong message to Verizon and greedy employers like them by considering AT&T for your wireless service.

This is a hard time for most of America. Many of us feel like we're under attack and are helpless. This is a fight for all of us trying to stand up to companies who don't care about what happens to the middle class if it makes them a few dollars richer.

Instead of Verizon Wireless, please consider AT&T Wireless and stand with middle-class families like yours, not rich CEOs.
