Dear Brothers and Sisters,

On behalf of the 250,000 union men and women in Wisconsin, we would like to express our solidarity in your struggle for the rights of working people of New Jersey. Collective bargaining and other worker protections won by the union movement are under assault across the nation. The fight to protect the fundamental right to collectively bargain is a valiant fight – regardless if these attacks come from Republicans or Democrats.

Any attack on collective bargaining is an assault on working people everywhere. Just as you have stood with us, we now stand with you in this struggle.

As we in Wisconsin know all too well, politicians attacking public employees is becoming increasingly common. This unprecedented attempt to disenfranchise workers flies in the face of national and international norms, including the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights. In such times, it is imperative that workers stand shoulder to shoulder across the nation to protect our hard-won rights. We join you in standing up for what made America great, a strong middle class built by the labor movement.

Let us know if you want us to ship out our Walkerville tents!

In Solidarity,

Phil Neuenfeldt
President
